Descending the stairs and entering the drawing room a moment later, Kitty overheard Mrs. Cranston saying: "Yes, that accounts for it. He was not invited and was simply jealous and desperate over not seeing her, so he stole into the grounds, and—"

"Oh, my, what an imagination you have, Mrs. Cranston!" Kitty laughed heartily. "But you are away off. Mr. Buckley explained it to Lydia. He was going by here, returning from a stag party down the street. He saw the carriage pass and noticed the wheel coming off. He called out—I thought I heard some one—but could not attract the attention of the driver. He tried to catch up, but could not do so until he was in the grounds, then the wheel came off, and we were dropping about in each other's laps."

"Oh!" Mrs. Cranston exclaimed disapprovingly. "Well, that does seem more reasonable," said Mrs. Dunleigh. "I can hardly imagine lovers, this day and time, doing the other thing. It's rather too stagey—too romantic, don't you think?"

"Well, I really don't know what we are going to do with Lydia," sighed Mrs. Cranston. "She didn't seem to enjoy herself a bit tonight. Just think of it! Why, I could hear whispering all over the rooms, 'Where is she? Is that her? My, ain't she pretty! They say that necklace has been in her family for 200 years. Have you been introduced?' And yet the object of it all sat on a divan half the evening talking to a married Presbyterian minister, who didn't even have on an evening suit."

"Really, I was proud of her," declared Mrs. Dunleigh. "She's just a pure, sweet, unspiced girl, and everybody knew it by her modest, shrinking manner. That's why she created such a furore, and why Governor Telford is such a fool about her. When she declined to go out to supper with him and in such a sweet, natural way suggested that he take you instead, I was afraid he might be offended, but he took it beautifully, and—well, it did look better. She wasn't going to put herself in such a conspicuous position if she could avoid it, and, on the whole, I think she was right."

"Well, I'm going to bed," said Kitty. "You two hens can stay off the roost and cackle all night if you like, but I'm sleepy."

"She's an original creature," said Mrs. Dunleigh, when Kitty had left them. "I wish you'd share her with me."

"She's that way all the time," said Mrs. Cranston. "Almost too independent to be a favorite with men, but women adore her. She's very exacting—wants men to be more perfect than they are. I really think she admires George Buckley, and she won't help me with Lydia a bit."

When Kitty returned to Lydia she found her in bed, the gas burning low, her face to the wall. Kitty disrobed noiselessly and got into bed. She lay still for a moment, then she said suddenly: "Look here, are you—well, I declare, you are awfully!"

rather go, George. I sorter hardened my heart agin 'im when he was stout an' well, but now he's sufferin', I want to be with 'im." She broke down and began to cry again.

"There is nothing on earth to hinder you," said her son, who was deeply touched by her emotion, "and if you want me to do so, I'll go, too, mother. He's my father—the only one I ever had, and—"

"One of us will be enough," said Mrs. Buckley. "But, George, I've been studyin' since I got this letter. I never thought of it before, but I never knewed yore pa to do a dishonest act till he had that fall an' hurt his head. I read in the Index 't'other day whar a good man had got a lick in the head an' it made a demon out o' him till the doctors operated on him an' cured 'im. Oh, George, an' them twelve men yore pa's case, an' them twelve men an' the judge jest sent a pore sick man off whar he couldn't help. It wasn't managed right. Somebody ought to 'a' fetched up that point. He mighty nigh made life unbearable fer us all, but the chain gang wasn't the place fer a man in his condition."

She had pushed back her bonnet and her gray eyes were flashing rebelliously. "That's right, mother," he said admiringly, his fine face aglow, "stick to him. I remember, when I was a very little fellow, that he was kind and gentle with me, and although he treated me pretty badly after I grew up I never could forget that period. Yes, you must go to him and do all you can for his comfort. I'll pay for it."

"Oh, George, George!" the old woman cried, standing up. "It don't seem right for you to—"

"I want to do it, mother," he said simply and firmly. "You must take the night train, and remember, you are to spare no expense."

"I said I felt relieved to have 'im go off," whispered Mrs. Buckley, "but after awhile I missed 'im, an' ef I could 'a' had 'im back without the responsibility of whar he'd do I'd 'a' been willin'." When he 'n' 'im got married it was so different. George, I'd 'a' picked yore pa out of a thousand men. I was so proud of 'im, an' was the happiest woman alive fer several years after yore was born. George, ef he gits well and serves his time out I think me 'n' 'im had better move off somers whar we don't conflict with yore interests. I see my duty clearer now. I'll stick to 'im fer better or worse as long as me or 'im lives."

George Buckley's head sank for an instant, then he looked up and gazed at her tenderly.

"There is nothing, mother, that can keep me from being with you and him. When his time is out we'll all live together. I've made up my mind on that point. He's a convict, and I want things different, but he's my father and you are my mother, and that settles it."

The old woman started away. She had reached the door, but turned back and stood near him. "George," she said huskily, "you are a good boy," and then she slowly walked away.

Caught at the Crossing.

Warren Ohio, Sept. 1.—Dr. Albert G. Miner, one of the best-known men in northeastern Ohio, and his wife, were killed last evening in a grade crossing collision here. Their vehicle was crushed by the collision with a passenger train, death being immediate in both cases.

Plans Not Succeeding.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The efforts of President Donnelly of the butchers' union to spread the strike against the packers throughout all trades that are in any way connected with the packinghouse industry, is only partially successful.

A Deadly Combination.

Muhole, Ind., Sept. 1.—Ernest Kennett, aged thirty-five years, an engineer, was accidentally shot and seriously wounded by Leon Nolton, aged nine years, of Bluffton, who was shooting at birds with a flobert rifle.

Battle of Liao Yang One of the Bloodiest in History of Battles.

STRUGGLE OF GIANTS

Four Hundred Thousand Men Engaged in Contest For Probable Supremacy in Far East.

Aggressive Attack and Stubborn Resistance May Continue For Several Days.

Tokio, Sept. 1.—The battle of Liao Yang is progressing without appreciable result. Official Japanese dispatches say that neither contestant has realized any visible results.

Liao Yang, Sept. 1.—The Russians have effected an advance along the railway to the southwest.

Liao Yang, Sept. 1.—The second day's battle commenced at dawn. The Russians made repeated bayonet advances on the road directly south of Liao Yang, where the Japanese approached from San Quai-ship and Tao, shelling the positions in the Russian lines until 4 in the afternoon, when the engagement, which was general throughout the south and southeast, narrowed to the main line. The Japanese advance on the southeast was by way of the Feng Wang Cheng road. Immediately in front of Chiao-fan-tun the Japanese stubbornly attempted to occupy a round-topped hill, which was literally shelled by the Russian shells, making repeated attempts the entire day where apparently it was impossible for anything to live. The cannonading continued from this point to the vicinity of Wang-pao-tai until evening without apparent advantage to either side. The Japanese dropped shells within two or three miles of the railroad station and in the plain of West-shu mountain, which is the most important eminence around Liao Yang, but the Japanese abandoned aggression on account of the resistance they met. There was cannon fire last night and is expected every night. The various casualties here include one Russian war correspondent wounded, also twenty-five Chinese women from Chiao-fan-tun, whom Dr. Westwater, the distinguished missionary, is caring for in the Chinese Red Cross refuge. The day's developments show that the Russians are prepared for all emergencies. Slow rain began to fall at noon, gradually transforming the plain into a wilderness through which the wounded, in carts and walking, all night made their way to the hospitals. Considering the scale of the day's operations, the number of Russian wounded is apparently small, while the Japanese losses are believed to be great, especially where they repulsed on the south road. Chinese graves with trees are being leveled about Liao Yang in order not to interfere with the defense. Developments are expected west and northeast.

FATE OF THE WAR

May Depend on Gigantic Struggle Now Going On.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—With the knowledge that the Russian and Japanese armies about Liao Yang are locked in a death struggle, the tension in St. Petersburg today is strained to the utmost. It is believed here that the fight cannot stop short of the crushing defeat of one side or the other.

All reports so far are favorable to the Russians, though the suspension of all news for many hours has been exceedingly trying and has given rise to several rumors, somewhat tempering the earlier enthusiasm. It is stated officially, however, that report that the railway and the telegraph have been cut north of Liao Yang is untrue. The highest military authorities here consider that the most critical stage of the battle has not yet been reached, and they believe that the fight may continue for some time before either side acknowledges defeat. This is an important consideration by the light of which to interpret any immediate news.

It is thought here, in view of the numbers engaged, the desperation of the assaults and the length of the line, about seven miles, the losses on the two days' fighting cannot fall short of 10,000 on each side. Both sides are straining every nerve, realizing that the fortunes of war for a whole year are in the scale, and neither side is in the mood or the position to spare men in the effort to achieve a final victory.

The battle of Liao Yang will probably rank as one of the great sanguinary battles of history. It is estimated by the general staff that the Japanese armies engaged number seventeen divisions of 15,000 men each, or, allowing for inefficients, about 240,000 men. Each division has thirty-six guns, and there are two independent artillery brigades of 100 guns each, making a total of about 800 guns.

In the preliminary fighting of Monday the Russians captured 200 prisoners, who have already arrived at Harbin, and report persists that they captured over forty Japanese guns yesterday. General Kuropatkin's effective forces are variously estimated at from 170,000 to 200,000 men.

The Japanese on Wednesday morning attacked three sides of the Russian position. One of the correspondents also mentions a Japanese movement to the northeast of Liao Yang, showing that the Japanese were undoubtedly trying to work around Kuropatkin's rear.

One of the surprising phases of the situation is the endurance of the men. They have been engaged desperately for two days after more or less severe fighting under unfavorable conditions every day since Aug. 24. It would seem that human endurance could not persist much longer without respite of some sort.

The Japanese are using balloons to locate the Russian guns and trenches. They are also reported to be using mortars to drop shells in the Russian positions. These are probably the high-angle-fire howitzers which were reported in action earlier in the week.

It is plain, however, that the Japanese are no longer enjoying the superiority in artillery which stood them in such good stead in the earlier months of the war. It was then hill fighting, and the Japanese mountain batteries, in which arms the Russians were deficient, told with deadly effect. Now the contest is in a comparatively open country, where both the Russian field-guns and the Russian cavalry can come into more effective use.

Nemirovich Danchenko, the famous Russian war correspondent, describing the battle, says: "The enemy, drunk with their former successes, attacked from three sides, like mad men. When they were hurled back fresh troops, of which they seemed to have an inexhaustible supply, were sent forward."

Situation at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Sept. 1.—The advance positions of the Japanese before Port Arthur are now near Fort No. 5 on the east, at Paichung on the north and at Hukiaton and Yanktowang on the west. Chinese who left Port Arthur on Aug. 28 say that neither side was then occupying Fort No. 5. The fort at Tungkia Tashan was destroyed by the Japanese, who proceeded to mount guns on adjoining hills.

Japanese Guns Captured.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—Further dispatches from Liao Yang confirm the report of the capture of forty-six Japanese guns which were brought up to the railroad station where General Kuropatkin's train was standing.

Russian Officers Captured.

Chefoo, Sept. 1.—It is reported here upon good authority that the Japanese have captured some Russian officers bound to Port Arthur with important papers.

Sending Prisoners North.

Mukden, Sept. 1.—Over 200 Japanese captured at the battle of Liao Yang yesterday passed through here today on a train. Another train is expected today.

GEORGE W. CUMMINGS

Vice President and Founder of the American Press Association.

New York, Sept. 1.—The funeral of George W. Cummings, vice president of the American Press Association, who died suddenly Aug. 28 at Banff, Northwest Territory, while on his way from his home in Los Angeles, Cal., to New York, will be held in this city on Tuesday.

Mr. Cummings was born near Terre Haute, Ind., in 1848 and was graduated from Indiana State University in 1872. He was married in 1879 to Miss Josephine de Fontaine of Charleston, S. C., who died in 1903. He engaged in journalism in Terre Haute and afterward in St. Louis.

In 1882, in connection with Major O. J. Smith and R. W. Nelson, Mr. Cummings founded the American Press Association in Chicago. Last spring he removed from New York, where he had lived for twenty years, to Los Angeles. His health had been impaired for some years before his death. He was identified with a number of business undertakings and died possessed of a considerable fortune. He will be buried in Woodlawn cemetery, New York.

Kansans Welcome Fairbanks.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 1.—Senator Fairbanks arrived here last evening from Chicago and was given a reception by the Topeka Club. This morning Mr. Fairbanks, Senator Long and the Kansas delegation in congress went to Marion, the home of E. W. Hoch, the Republican nominee for governor, where the Republican campaign in this state was formally opened. The principal address will be by Senator Fairbanks.

The fair train was packed with people. There was a terrific crash and the first two passenger cars in each train telescoped the baggage cars, while both engines were smashed to pieces. Within five minutes there were many willing helpers on the spot and the rescue was commenced. Physicians were telephoned for from all over the surrounding country, and a special train was immediately sent from Sherbrooke with a half dozen doctors and nurses to aid them.

SCANDAL REVIVED

Princess Louise Demonstrates That Love Laughs at Locksmiths.

OLD FLAME IS RENEWED

Berlin Court Circles Are Reveling in a Bit of Scandal That Excites All Europe.

Newspapers Give It More Prominence Than Is Given to Eastern War.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Princess Louise of Coburg, daughter of the king of the Belgians, who relations with Kieglievich Mattasitch, the former lieutenant of the Austrian army, caused a great scandal in European royal circles seven years ago, and who has since been kept under the closest restraint, has vanished from Bad Elster, where she has been taking the cure. It is presumed that the princess is in the company of Mattasitch and is seeking to gain an asylum where she will be safe from recapture.

The escape of the princess was accomplished in a mysterious and romantic manner. Ladders and a swift automobile were brought into play to effect her release from the hotel, where she has been immured almost as a prisoner, and to convey her to some refuge, regarding the location of which nothing is known. Not the slightest trace of the whereabouts of the pair has been discovered, and nothing is known beyond the fact that the princess and another guest of the hotel, believed to have been Mattasitch, have disappeared and with them the jewels of the princess, and an automobile. The escape of the princess, with an air of mystery, has created almost as great a sensation here and in Dresden and Vienna as did the original scandal. Detailed accounts in the newspapers of her flight overshadow the dispatches from the far East.

NEGLECT OF ORDERS

Caused a Frightful Railway Wreck in Quebec.

Richmond, Que., Sept. 1.—The worst railway accident that has taken place in this province since the Craigs railroad disaster in 1885, occurred here last evening when the regular No. 5 Grand Trunk train from Island Point, Vt., collided with the special fair train from Montreal to Sherbrooke. Nine persons were killed outright, two of the injured died later of their hurts, and about fifty others were injured, twenty-five of them seriously. Many of the dead are so badly mangled that they are unrecognizable. The collision, it is claimed, was due to neglect of orders on the part of the train crew of the excursion train, which left Richmond without awaiting the arrival of the passenger train.

EXCITING TIMES

Irish Leaguers in an Uproar Over Representation.

New York, Sept. 1.—Much excitement and disorder attended the discussion of a resolution to increase the membership of the executive committee at the convention of the United Irish League of America here. The proposition was to increase the committee from 50 to 100, and the trouble began when John F. Ryan of Philadelphia said that New York should not have two representatives on the executive committee, when Boston and other cities had given more to the general fund than had New York.

Delegate O'Connor of Elmira, N. Y., sharply resented Mr. Ryan's attack on the Irishmen of New York state, and the convention was soon in an uproar. After great disorder the proposed amendment was defeated and the excitement subsided.

The remainder of the day was devoted to routine matters and to the adoption of a platform pledging allegiance to the cause of Irish national independence. Last evening John Redmond delivered an address.

Killed by His Own Gun. Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 1.—John Shifely, a well-known citizen, shot himself, dying almost instantly, at his home. The coroner made a return that the shot was accidental. Mr. Shifely climbed a ladder to shoot a squirrel, and he missed his footing and in the fall his weapon was discharged. The bullet passed through his head.

Frightful Explosion of Powder. Punxsutawney, Pa., Sept. 1.—Eight hundred kegs of powder exploded in the press-room of the Laflin & Rand powder works two miles east of here, instantly killing one man, seriously injuring three others and causing costly destruction of property.

Mexican Town Burning.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—The city of Juarez, Mex., across the river from El Paso, is threatened with destruction by fire. Already one block of the best business houses has been burned and all efforts of the fire department have thus far been futile. The loss will be heavy.

Women Circulate Remonstrance.

Fowler, Ind., Sept. 1.—Women are taking an active part in the temperance war in this city, and they have secured many signatures to a remonstrance against the granting of a liquor license to Nicholas Dupries.

Costly Incendiary Blaze.

Groveton, Tex., Sept. 1.—The new sawmill of the Trinity Lumber company at this place burned, entailing a loss of $130,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Call For Joint Senatorial Convention.

The republicans of the Joint Senatorial district composed of Jackson and Washington Counties will convene in delegate convention at Brownstown Ind. Saturday September 24th, 1904, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of nominating one Joint Senator for the General Assembly. Representation of said convention is apportioned as follows: Jackson county 11 votes, Washington county 9 votes, Total 20. Necessary to a choice 11 votes. By order of,

W. H. BURKLEY,
Chairman County Republican Committee.

LEWIS DENNIS,
Chairman, Washington County Republican Committee.

WE hear much from "reorganizers" now about the "safe and sane" democracy represented by Judge Parker, all of which implies that the democracy of the Bryan type is both unsafe and insane. What do the men who were sincerely for Bryan think about it?

HON. ANDERSON PERCIEFIELD, of Nashville, the republican nominee for congress in this district is the leading lawyer of his county and was prosecuting attorney two terms. He is not only a lawyer of ability but he is a man of large influence and there is no better campaigner in the Fourth district than he. The nomination is a good one. Mr. Perciefield will make a thorough canvas of the entire district and wherever he goes he will make friends and win votes.

THE Brownstown Banner makes two misstatements this week for which there is no excuse. It says Ex-Judge Marsh, of Greenfield, who left the democratic party in 1896 had gone back to the fold, and that Booth Tarkington would support Parker. The facts are that both these gentlemen are strong supporters of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Judge Marsh is a member of the Columbia Club at Indianapolis and recently said in the presence of the writer that the crooked course of the democratic party was too much for him to follow. And anybody that reads the Indianapolis papers knows that Booth Tarkington is a loyal and influential republican. The Banner editor must think his readers take no other paper and for that reason he can deceive them. He deceives himself.

ROOSEVELT AND THE CONSTITUTION

IN 1864 the democratic party vigorously attacked President Lincoln claiming that he was conducting the war in violation of the federal constitution, declaring that the constitution, did not authorize the coercion of a sovereign state. In fact the campaign of '64 was largely one of abuse of Abraham Lincoln. The President at that time went right ahead preserving the Union. At no time since Lincoln's day have we heard so much from the democrats about the destruction of the constitution. Now what has the Roosevelt administration done that so disturbs Sheehan, Hill, Taggart and the rest of the great constitutional lawyers? First he settled the great anthracite coal strike. The coal barons closed down all their anthracite mines saying that they would not be opened till the miners agreed to their terms. The strike went on till human suffering was imminent. The cry from the innocent poor for coal was heard. The coal barons said the suffering was no concern of theirs, that the coal mines were theirs and that they would do as they pleased with the coal. President Roosevelt thought the general welfare of the people demanded a settlement of the strike, and he took steps which led to the settlement. Now come Judge Parker and Coal Baron Davis and say that President Roosevelt is destroying the constitution.

Again we were negotiating a treaty with the Republic of Columbia for the construction of the Panama canal. The congress of Columbia could not agree. There was a revolution, and the new Republic of Panama was created. The Roosevelt administration recognized the new republic and negotiated a treaty making the canal a certainty. This was entirely too prompt and businesslike for the Baileys and the Champ Clarks and they say the President is overturning the constitution.

WALL street is against Roosevelt because he is honest and refuses to play any favorites. For the same reason thousands of independent voters will support the president.

D. B. Bryan.
D. B. Bryan, whose death was announced in these columns, Wednesday was born in Campbell County Kentucky, March 15, 1827. Nov. 21, 1852 he and Miss Amanda F. Yelton were married. In 1865 they moved to Marion county, Indiana, and in 1866 to Johnson county where they lived until 1887, when they moved to Jackson county which has been their home since. On November 23, 1902 Mr. and Mrs. Bryan celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home at Chestnut Ridge. Mrs. Bryan survives her husband and the surviving children are Samuel A. and J. L. Bryan and Mrs. Edna F. Owens, of Franklin, Mrs. Maggie Crowe, of Seymour, Mrs. Emma J. Brown, of Pueblo, Colorado, Ed. B., Allen G. and Wade E. Bryan, of Seymour.

Funeral from the First Baptist church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Services will probably be conducted by Rev. P. O. Duncan, of North Vernon. Burial at Riverview.

When Letters Blur

It is time to look to your sight. Good eye sight is rather to be chosen than great riches, and if neglected cannot be restored by wealth.

DON'T BE SELF SATISFIED.

It is easy to deceive yourself, we too frequently find this case. It costs nothing for examination and you will feel better to know there is nothing wrong. Mr. and Mrs. Harsch.

The funeral of Mrs. August Pferrer this afternoon was attended by an unusually large number of friends and relatives. Several from Brownstown and vicinity were present.

Frank E. Patrick has re-entered the grocery business, having purchased the Glosson store at the old J. M. Brown stand, corner of Third and Ewing streets. He has already taken charge.

There is another rumor that somebody is just about to be arrested at Bedford for the murder of Miss Schaffer. But such rumors have been out before and nothing came of them.

INDIANA THE MOST ECONOMICALLY MANAGED STATE IN THE UNION

When it comes to the election of members of the legislature on Nov. 8, your vote means one of two things—either you do or you don't care whether or not the state's business is carried on in an economical, businesslike manner in which you would want a company in which you were a stockholder to be conducted. Either you will cast your vote in favor of continuing the present debt-destroying, expense-reducing state administration, or you will express a preference for a start in a new direction. This is as certain as the result of an arithmetical process, correctly carried out—if experience teaches anything.

Here are the facts: Indiana is today the most economically managed state in the Union. Within the past nine years of Republican control a state debt of seven and a half million dollars has been cut to less than two million dollars, which with present conditions continued, will soon be wiped out. The tax levy has been materially reduced under the Republican regime. All this has been accomplished in spite of the expenditure of more than $2,000,000 in the permanent improvement of the state penal and charitable institutions, the completion of the soldiers' monument, the establishment of the state soldiers' home at Lafayette, and the purchase of a site for the girl's industrial school, the separation of which from the woman's reformatory has been authorized by law. Reform laws have been passed which have reduced the burdens of local taxation and have resulted in the turning into the state's treasury of thousands of dollars in fees which formerly went to private coffers. The per capita cost of the maintenance of the state's wards in various institutions has been materially decreased.

Republican state and legislative candidates stand for a continuance of these conditions.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. ORATORY AND SONG

Candidate Hanly to Be Accompanied by Glee Club.

Indianapolis, Sept. 1.—J. Frank Hanly, Republican candidate for governor, expects to make a winning campaign, and while it is generally conceded that he is an excellent campaigner, he will not depend entirely on his own oratory to hold the crowds. He will have a glee club of male voices with him from start to finish. The club is an old-time Ninth district organization that has achieved pleasant notoriety in other campaigns. Mr. Hanly passed through here today en route to Brownstown to address a soldiers' reunion. He will make the Labor Day address at Fairmount, Monday afternoon and open his campaign at Muncie Monday night. Thereafter his tour will be directed by the state committee. Chairman Goodrich, J. B. Kealing and several other well-known Republican leaders went to Richmond this afternoon to attend the opening of the campaign by Speaker Joe Cannon. It is said that the greatest night meeting of the campaign is being arranged for him at Marion, where he speaks Friday.

Party leaders here are wondering if there will be so much campaigning from the rear end of a train this time. The chances are that there will not, as Judge Parker and President Roosevelt intend to remain in the background so far as the speechmaking is concerned. There is a possibility of Senator Fairbanks making a tour on a special train in Indiana for four or five days before the election, but the campaign will be minus such spectacular figures as Bryan and Roosevelt, who stirred up the enthusiasm four years ago. Senator Fairbanks is expected to conduct a dignified and effective campaign, and he may get a touch of the special train business in several states, but it is not the understanding that he will be taken on a big swing around the circle. Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president, expects to take a prominent part in the campaign, but it is not likely that he will appear on the rear end of a train. So far as the spectacular is concerned, it is not probable that it will be worth mentioning.

The situation among the Populist leaders is beginning to create a great deal of amusement. The Republican and Democratic politicians who had begun to figure on the possibility of the Pops becoming the power they were in 1892 are no longer concerned, for they don't believe it will be possible for them to get together on anything. The fusionists say they intend to go right ahead with their convention regardless of the action of the mid-roads. In fact they have a want ad now in the local papers stating that the convention will be held Sept. 15 and inviting sympathizers to attend. The mid-roads named a number of fusionists for places on their ticket, expecting the fusionists to lie down like little lambs and not hold another convention, but it looks as if the fusionists intend to go it alone. Neither the fusionists nor mid-roads can get on the ticket unless they present a petition signed by 500 voters, so it is not at all probable that they will be able to cut much figure.

A hard fight is developing among the Republicans for the position Judge Henly of Rushville holds on the appellate court bench. He has informed some of his friends that he may resign within the next ten days to accept a fine position in Chicago. Delegations have been here to see the governor and Chairman Goodrich in behalf of David Myers of Greensburg, and Gates Sexton of Rushville, and the Fourth district has endorsed ex-Judge Perry Baer of Madison for the place. Governor Durbin can only appoint a successor to serve till the first general election, so if Henly resigns now there will be a vacancy to fill at the November election.

The Republicans of Indiana completed their congressional tickets with the nomination of Sanderson Perciefield of Nashville, Brown county. The convention was held at North Vernon. Perciefield was a Democrat until 1900 and was twice prosecutor of Brown county. It is said that he is a good lawyer and campaigner, and that he is going to enter the campaign with much vigor. The Democrats have yet to name about half of their candidates.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in case of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by C. W. Milbous.

WHIMS OF FASHION.

The Difficulties of Voile—Some Handsome House Gowns.

The illustration represents an ultra fashionable voile gown, with the flounces, long shoulders and ugly sleeves. It is skirted at the hips and back and still further decorated with three flounces. It looks like an easy one to make, and it possibly would be of anything but voile. The amateur dressmaker who attempts this is advised to ask the prayers of the congregation before she cuts into the stuff, for of all the pully and generally reprehensible material to handle this is the worst.

But when a voile dress is once made it is certainly pretty and has so many points of value that we all want one, but I think they must have pixies or some other fairy hands to do the work on those we buy ready made, for they are all right and don't pull here and sag there.

Among the pretty house gowns for the coming season I see many pongees in light tan, brown and bleached. The latter are the most dressy, but are very delicate, being trimmed with self colored embroidery in raised designs and edged with lace generally of the silken gurgule variety. This is in tan shades and cream so as to match the silk exactly. Some of these light pongees are trimmed with many rows of the narrowest black velvet ribbon and have full rosettes, with long loops at the neck, at the elbows and sometimes down the front.

Ribbon in the narrow widths is to be much employed as trimming along the flounces now a fixed fact for the fall. The ribbon is half an inch to one inch wide and is laid on flat. It edges flounces or is put on in regular designs like key pattern, or diamond on diamond. It is stitched on in machine work. On some of the pretty gowns where there is more than one color rows of ribbon to match each color are gathered on one above the other. This makes a very artistic trimming. The ribbon should not be over an inch in width.

At the present moment the stores are selling off the goods left over from the spring and early summer trade, and it seems a pity not to be able to take advantage of the sales. Many pieces of goods which are really standard, such as silk warp endoras and henriettas and mohairs, are being offered at less than a quarter of the price usually asked for them, while white made up goods which are slightly shopworn are sold for far less than the materials would cost, to say nothing of the labor. The wise woman keeps a few pennies aside for just such chances.

Hats are quite as large as they have been, but the prices have noticeably diminished. A straw hat offered early in the season for $25 was marked down to $4 yesterday. But, then, who wants to wait four months for a hat for the sake of the difference, great as it is in the price?

Bathing suits just now are much in evidence and are marked by good taste and decency. There is an undergarment in the shape of knickerbockers, and over it are skirt and blouse. The skirt and blouse are in one, and there is a waist (which does duty for a corset) attached to the knickerbockers, so that nothing will tear loose. These bathing suits are mostly made of moiré in the fine rainproof qualities, which makes them the safest of all bathing suits, for the water cannot fill the pores and weigh the wearer down. Silk warp henriettas are also excellent, as they shed water well and do not cling to the figure.

Summer parasols are the daintiest and prettiest things of the sort ever seen. Chiffons like the flying scuds are caught and blown against the frames, or at least it seems so, and then some one adds a pretty bit of pink or blue ribbon just where it will show up best—and there you are. The frames are covered with thin liberty in some pale tint, and the rest is put upon that. Deep filmy ruffles that move with every breath of air, soft rosettes set among puffs and shirrings, and flowers of different kinds made cleverly of the chiffon are among the legitimate trimmings for these aids to conquest.

Among other novelties calculated to deprive women of retreating slumber is a new idea in trimming lace. The body of the lace is of white, black, ecru or cream, and the floral pattern is done in color and raised somewhat like the lace made by the Turkish women. HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

AUGUST WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Cool, Bright and Very Drouthy Month.

August, 1904, was cool and very dry with generous sunshine. The warmest day was the 1st, with a temperature mean of 81 degrees, and the coolest was the 27th with a mean of only 64 degrees. The greatest daily temperature range was 37 degrees and the monthly range was 42 degrees. Very light electrical storms occurred on the 1st, 19th and 25th, and distant thunder was heard on the 11th and 15th. The prevailing winds were Southwesterly and generally very light. Rain fell on only 4 days, 17 days were clear. 5 were partly cloudy and 9 were cloudy. A brilliant solar rainbow was observed on the evening of the 19th, and red sunsets were very frequent. The total precipitation was only 1.40 inches--2 inches short of the normal--and the greatest rainfall in 24 hours was 0.70 of an inch on the 19th. The drouthy conditions were relieved by generous rains on the 19th and 20th, which greatly improved crop conditions. The damage to the corn will not exceed 20 per cent, and that to other late field and gardens was probably less. The melon and tomato crops perhaps suffered as little as any. Much fall plowing is done and the soil is in fine condition. Plum and grapes very abundant; peaches scarce; fair crops of other fruits. Temperatures: Maximum, 92 degrees on the 1st; Minimum, 49 on the 27th, and mean for the month 72.9 degrees above zero.

JOHN AULD FORSYTHE, Observer Weather Bureau.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

INDIANA'S GREAT DAY.

Immense Gathering Looked For at World's Fair, September 1st.

Present indications point to a record-breaking day at St. Louis, Thursday, September 1st, when the celebration of Indiana Day takes place at the World's Fair. The large number of Indiana people intending to be present at this great state function is shown by the advance requisitions for tickets to St. Louis the ensuing fortnight. The special low fares from Indiana to St. Louis over the Pennsylvania Vandalia Lines has stimulated such interest that every provision is made or handling larger crowds of excursionists than at first expected.

Representative of Indiana interests having exhibits in the Exposition, public officials and citizens generally who have already signified their intention of being at the greatest of all fairs on Indiana Day show that the next few days will see the heaviest movement from Indiana to St. Louis since the opening of the World's Fair. Governor Dubin and his staff will leave Indianapolis for St. Louis Wednesday, August 31st, over the Vandalia Line. On the evening of the same day, the Newsboys' Band of the Indianapolis News, consisting of about eight members, will also go over the Vandalia Line to St. Louis, the youngsters going to the World's Fair as the guests of the News.

W. W. RICHARDSON, Assistant General Passenger Agent, of the Pennsylvania Vandalia Lines, has received more inquiries at his offices in Indianapolis from intending World's Fair visitors in the last week than at any time since the St. Louis Exposition was thrown open, which is taken as the most striking indication of the widespread interest manifested in the great celebration in honor of Indiana.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Excursions via Pennsylvania Lines to that Pretty Resort.

With the opening of the season at Winona Lake, May 15th, the sale of excursion tickets over the Pennsylvania Lines to that attractive resort in Northern Indiana will begin. Every summer passed there by thousands has only increased their desire to return. On the golf links, the tennis courts, the baseball or croquet grounds, the croquet field, or "outing" on the lake, fishing, camping, swimming, driving, or attending recitals and lectures by world-famed personages in the auditorium—whatever the diversion may be, the associations are of that congenial sort conferred by good society. This resort is noted as the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, attracting teachers and students from educational institutions of this and other countries.

Fifteen-day and season excursion tickets will be sold from ticket stations on the Pennsylvania Lines during the summer. For information about fares and times of trains, apply to local ticket agents, or to F. Van Dusen, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent, Pittsburgh, Pa. Illustrated literature describing attractions of Winona Lake may be had for the asking. Address S. C. Dickey, Secretary and General Manager, Winona Lake, Ind., who will give particulars regarding camping facilities, hotel accommodations, program of addresses by noted speakers and all other details.

HELD IN CONTEMPT

Retail Druggists' Association Fined by Chicago Court.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Twenty-five hundred retail druggists in the United States were declared guilty of contempt of court by Judge Dunne of the circuit court and the National Association of Retail Druggists of which they are members was fined $2,000, while Thomas V. Wooten, secretary of the organization, was fined $500. The cases against five wholesale druggists of Chicago, also charged with contempt, were continued until the full term of court, when it will be necessary for them to take additional proof into court to purge them of the contempt charges.

The injunction under which the druggists' association was fined was secured by Isaac Platt, a retail druggist of Chicago, in November, 1902, and restrained them from interfering in any manner with the securing of supplies by Platt, who had incurred the association's displeasure. It was charged, because he would not join it. "Platt has been deprived of the right in this community to sell goods," Judge Dunne said in rendering his decision. "Nothing can be more clear. It is a combination that has prevented him from securing supplies, and this court enjoined the defendants in this case from carrying out their plans to prevent Platt from obtaining goods."

Platt charges that he has been blacklisted and boycotted by the association, and that through its influence all the wholesale houses in Chicago have refused to sell him supplies. The association made its defense upon the plea that Platt was attempting to sell goods at wholesale, thus cutting the prices. Platt has fought the association for two years in the courts, and it was charged in court that the association several times asked him to give up the fight and join the alleged combination, asserting that they would then cease to molest him.

THE WHIPPING POST

Judicial Advocates of Such an Institution, Read This.

Nashville, Ind., Sept. 1.—Sandy Moore, aged twenty-five, was taken from his home, one mile southeast of Elkinsville, and whipped unmercifully. His assailants numbered about thirty, all masked.

As the whitecaps burst open the front door, Moore's wife met them and begged them to be merciful. They told her to return to bed, assuring her that they would injure no one except her husband. They then took Moore from bed, gagged and tied him to a tree. After baring his back, they applied the whips and continued the punishment until blood flowed from the gashes they inflicted. When they left they told him that any kind of punishment was too good for a man who would whip his wife, disturb religious meetings and get drunk. Moore did not recognize any of his assailants.

Women Whitecaps at Marion.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 1.—Fifteen women attired in men's clothing went to the home of Lewis Lewis, bound him, dragged him to a common nearby and gave him a severe whipping. Lewis, it is said, had frequently returned home in an intoxicated condition and abused his wife. Mrs. Lewis declined to make a public complaint, and the women of the neighborhood decided to punish Lewis.

Served Short Sentence.

Indianapolis, Sept. 1.—William P. Keller, convicted in the criminal court last July and sentenced to serve an indeterminate term of from one to three years in the state prison for embezzling sums of money from the A. Bursall company, 102 S. Meridian street, has been paroled by Governor Dubin after having been an inmate of the prison only about six weeks. Keller was paroled on condition that he should leave the state. After leaving prison he went to California, where he formerly lived, and where his wife, son and daughter had gone.

Town Lost Its Depot.

Walesboro, Ind., Sept. 1.—The citizens of this place have been warring with the Pennsylvania Railway company for three years, asserting that the fence protecting the station trespassed upon the highway. Several times the fence has been destroyed, only to be rebuilt. The company has now settled the controversy by abandoning Walesboro as a stopping place and removing its agent.

Aged Farmer's Fatal Fall.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 1.—Jacob Kell, eighty-four years old, father of State Senator George V. Kell, is dead at his farm home near this city, as a result of injuries received a couple of days ago. The old man went into his barn to observe the work of carpenters putting down a new floor. He fell between the joists and sustained injuries which resulted in his death.

Forkner for President.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 1.—Mayor John L. Forkner of this city was elected president of the Indiana Association of Elks. It is estimated that about 5,000 visitors are in the city. Terre Haute and Muncie are candidates for the next meeting place, the selection of which may be left to the executive committee. It is thought Muncie will be selected.

Fatally Injured by Gunshot.

Corydon, Ind., Sept. 1.—Patrick Flanagan, Democratic nominee for trustee of Posey township, this county, and residing at Elizabeth, accidentally discharged the contents of a shotgun into his face, tearing away his chin and nose and putting out his eyes. He cannot recover.

DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc.

If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out.

You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.
